

ANOTHER ENEMY ATTACK EXPECTED ON WEST FRONT

Coming Blow May Decide Issue of Campaign

With the return of almost normal conditions on the Italian front and with no indications apparent that it is the intention of the Austrians to launch another stroke against General Diaz's armies, the eyes of the world are being centered once more in expectancy on the battle area in France and Flanders as the possible theater of early encounters on a large scale.

This expectancy is heightened by the utterance of David Lloyd George, the British prime minister in the house of commons Monday when he said another enemy attack might be looked for, possibly within a few hours and certainly within the next few days—a blow on which the issue of the campaign might depend—rather than by any outward signs of great preparations by the Germans to loose their armies for another attempt at the capture of Paris or the channel ports, although the infantry operations except by the Americans in the Belleau wood have scarcely risen in importance above patrol encounters recently, nevertheless the Germans are trying out with their artillery stability of the British and French positions on various sectors from Flanders to the region of the Marne. Southwestern of Armentieres on the river Lys sector, and between Givency and Robecq, the British lines have been heavily shelled with guns of all calibers and with considerable numbers of gas projectiles.

The French have been receiving similar visitations between the Oise and Aisne rivers, especially in the region north of Villers-Cotterets where the recent German offensive reached its greatest depth in the attempted dash to Paris.

When or where the next offensive is to be launched cannot be foretold but it is expected that it will be started and carried out in an ambitious manner, for it seemingly is realized that time now is working against Germany and that haste is necessary. This fact apparently is being deeply impressed on the German high command especially as it daily is witnessing the arrival of increasing numbers of Americans on the battle front and is coming to realize that they are foemen of the highest merit.

For the moment the Germans seem resigned to their loss to the Americans of the Belleau wood northwest of Chateau Thierry. No counter-attacks have been made in an endeavor to regain the lost ground. The latest account of the American's victory shows that the troops from overseas in addition to killing or wounding many of the enemy took 311 prisoners, eleven machine guns and ten automatic rifles and a large quantity of ammunition and other war stores.

All is quiet along the Piave front in the Italian theater, where the Italians are secure in the positions from which they drove the Austrians from the western bank of the river. In the mountain region there has been considerable fighting in which the Italians seem to have had the upper hand.

No Infantry Activity Reported.

"On the night of June 26-27, bombing operations continued and sixteen tons of bombs were dropped by our night flying machines on various targets without loss."

Pershing Recounts Activity of Americans.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Capture of 240 prisoners, including five officers by American forces operating in the Chateau Thierry region Tuesday and successful bombing of the railroad yards and station at Comblains by American aviators Tuesday night are recounted in General Pershing's communique for yesterday received today.

The statement follows: "Section A: Later yesterday in the Chateau Thierry region our infantry effectively supported by our artillery attacked the enemy position south of Torcy and advanced our line. Two hundred and forty prisoners, of whom five were officers, and 19 machine guns, several automatic rifles and a quantity of material were captured during the operation. Successive hostile counter-attacks broke down with losses."

"Last night our aviators bombed the railway station and yards at Comblains. General Pershing transmitted under section B of his statement the names of units, officers and men of the first American division who were cited for bravery at the battle of Cantigny by the general commanding the French army with which the first division is serving. Berlin Reports No Change in Situation.

BERLIN, June 27.—via London. The official communication from general headquarters today says:

"There is no change in the situation. Lively enemy activity has been displayed north of the Scarpe and on the Somme, west of Soissons and northwest of Rheims. The enemy's observers have again been seen on the Rheims cathedral."

"During the night the artillery action increased again on the rest of the front; also between the Aisne and the Marne in connection with infantry reconnaissance. On the east bank of the Meuse we carried out successful reconnaissance north of St. Mihiel. A strong enemy attack was repulsed."

"Five airplanes were shot down out of an enemy bombing echelon, which during the last two days has raided Karlsruhe and Offenburg, an industrial region of Lorraine."

"Yesterday our bombing squadrons attacked Paris and the enemy's railway junctions and air-dromes on the way there."

Announcement by German high command enemy observers have been seen on Rheims Cathedral is usually preliminary to a bombardment of that edifice. French authorities have denied the cathedral ever used for observation purposes.

The last bombardment of the cathedral occurred in April, when the city of Rheims was a great pile of smoke and ruins, after Germans had fired into it more than 100,000 shells, according to the Paris Matin. At that time the vaulting of the famous church was falling stone by stone and there was little left of the edifice but west front and pillars.

BOND BILL FRAMED BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Another bond bill authorizing eight billion dollars of liberty bonds in addition to all heretofore authorized was framed today by the house ways and means committee in preparation for the next issue in October and to provide for a subsequent issue when necessary. Authorization is outstanding for $4,000,000,000 in bonds and the next issue probably will be around $6,000,000,000. Besides authorizing $8,000,000,000 more bonds for domestic purposes the bill which was approved by the committee for immediate report to the house would authorize $1,500,000,000 more for loans to the allies, increasing the total provided for this purpose from $5,500,000,000 to $7,000,000,000. In transmitting the tentative draft Secretary McAdoo stated that advances to the allies for July, August and September had been estimated at $500,000,000 monthly.

Provides For National Prohibition

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Carrying an amendment providing for National Prohibition as a war measure, but not fully effective until June 30, 1919, the million dollar emergency agricultural appropriation bill was reported late today to the senate. The present plan is to call it up after the army bill is disposed of and a bitter fight is expected by many senators.

The prohibition amendment offered by Senator Norris of Nebraska, as a substitute for that by Senator Jones of Washington was adopted today by the senate agricultural committee, 8 to 3. It prohibits the sale of distilled spirits and the manufacture of wine or the removal of liquors now held in bond after June 30, 1919. The manufacture of beer would be stopped three months after passage of the bill.

Chairman Sherman of Texas and other prohibition leaders were confident tonight of the passage of the prohibition amendment. They said that since the senate last year adopted by a two thirds vote the resolution to submit to the state a prohibition constitutional amendment, a majority vote in support of the present proposal easily could be secured. Opponents, however, expected a strong fight to be made in view of the fact that the constitutional amendment now is awaiting action by the states.

REFUSES TO ACCEPT SENATE AMENDMENTS

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The house today again refused to accept senate amendments to the naval appropriation bill providing for rank of lieutenant general for commandant of the marine corps and of major general for corps staff officers; for payment of bonuses to navy yard workmen and for transfer of marine corps staff officers to the line with promotion by the president. The measure was sent back to conference.

Chairman Padgett of the house naval committee offered a compromise amendment under which promotion of Major General Barnett, commandant of the marine corps, to be lieutenant general would be left to the discretion of the president, but the house refused to accept it. Mr. Padgett said:

"If you are going to vote for this amendment, vote for it on its merits and if not, vote against it on principle; but for God's sake don't reflect on Major General Barnett. The marine corps is the finest body of fighting men the country ever produced and it has been brought to its high standing under direction of Major General Barnett."

The chief question to be considered the senator said, "is the maintaining of a proper balance between the military and the industrial, and agricultural populations."

ONE KILLED IN WRECK ON INTERURBAN LINE

Urbana, Ill., June 27.—One man was killed, another seriously hurt and a dozen or more Roman citizens were slightly injured when a special car of the Kankakee and Urbana Traction Company's Line collided with a "regular" car one and one half miles north of this city at 11:15 o'clock Wednesday night, shortly after the special car, crowded with Rantoul Masons, including aviators from Chanute field, left the park where a picnic had been held. More than half a hundred persons in the special car miraculously escaped death.

Otto Jensen of Rantoul, a blacksmith, died of injuries while being rushed to a hospital. A. J. Bogan, motorman of the special car received serious injuries. Names of others injured, all of whom were slightly hurt, were not obtained by road officials. An inquest was held this afternoon.

FAIL TO REACH VOTE ON SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

Resolution Withdrawn Temporarily for consideration of Army Appropriation Bill.

Washington, June 27.—Efforts to bring the house resolution proposing submission of the Susan B. Anthony equal suffrage amendment to the federal constitution to a vote in the senate today failed after three hours of debate. The resolution was withdrawn but next week the fight will be renewed and forced to a conclusion.

Senator Reed of Missouri declared refusal of suffrage leaders to arrange a pair for Senator James, demonstrated that "the first fruits of suffrage are to set aside courtesies and decencies" of senate procedure and then spoke for nearly an hour and a half, but mostly on the army bill.

Chairman Jones of the senate woman suffrage committee made an effort to force a vote by moving to hold the resolution before the senate and to place the $12,000,000 army appropriation bill but later stated it was evident there would be "great delay" not only in disposing of the suffrage question but the army and other important measures and he withdrew his motion until after important supply bills are passed.

RESUME DEBATE ON FALL AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Debate on the Fall amendment to the twelve billion dollar appropriation bill, providing for extension of the draft ages to 20 and 30 years was resumed in the senate today. A vote was not reached. Leaders tonight hoped to dispose of the amendment and possibly pass the bill tomorrow.

At the conclusion of the brief discussion today, Senator Fall said he expected that his effort to extend the draft ages would be futile and the general opinion of senators seemed to be that the amendment would be rejected.

Senator Cummins of Iowa said that if the senate had adopted the resolution he offered last month calling for information for the departmental officials regarding the manpower needed for military, industrial and agricultural purposes it now would have information that would make it imperative for the senate to act.

ASK TO RAISE LOCAL TRANSPORTATION RATE

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The war labor board today in final hearing on request of Street Railway companies for increased wages withheld differences on the proposal of employees and that President Wilson will be asked to raise local transportation rates if it is shown necessary to enable companies to increase employees' pay.

Representatives of employees asked that the average wage of $1,000 in middle western and eastern cities, be increased to between $1,600 and $1,750. Briefs were submitted to show that the lowest wage on which a family of four persons can live is approximately $1,600.

Such an increase T. N. McCarter, chairman of the war board of the electrical railway association, said would bankrupt practically every company.

Higher wages in other fields are causing street railway employees to give up their positions in large numbers, said W. D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated association of Street and Electric railway employees.

Reports from the field of battle at nearly all points show good news on the good side.

Residents of the United States whose hearts are with the enemy are entitled to no consideration. The time to talk or speak of this as a useless or uncalled for war has passed. We are in it to win.

The allies are growing stronger each day, and are now in better shape to fight their way thru to a decisive issue than at any time since the war began. We have the enemy on the defensive at many points.

Over in Christian county one firm has agreed to take care of the first issue of government certificates of indebtedness, taking the full quota for the county. Christian will evidently go over the top the first day.

The statement is made that the entire cost of the war of the rebellion is being duplicated every eighty five days. That is what it is costing to win the war, but the people are accepting the burden cheerfully.

Carter H. Harrison, four times mayor of Chicago, is being urged by many of his constituents to become a candidate for congress on the Democratic ticket. Factional fights in his own party, however, will be very difficult to reconcile.

Homier J. Tice, of Greenville, is again candidate for representative in the thirtieth senatorial district. Homier is a fairly good man for the job, but he evidently thinks good men in his district are scarce. He does not give the others a chance.

* Today is thrift stamp day and the splendid record of Jacksonville must be maintained and made greater. Every citizen will be given a chance to deal a blow against the hordes of Huns. We have money and it is the duty and should be the pleasure of the stay-at-homes to invest in thrift and war stamps, to do their part in furnishing the government with the money necessary to carry the war to a successful finish.

GOOD WORK.

A few days ago we made the statement that six vessels would be launched by the government July Fourth, but now reports gathered from every shipbuilding district in the United States, carefully checked by the Construction Divisions of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, indicate that at least 90 vessels, both steel and wood, and possibly 95, will go into the water on that date. Their total tonnage will be, according to the most accurate data obtainable, 470,866 deadweight tons, or almost half a million tons of cargo vessels launched in a single day. It is safe to say that never before has any such record even been approached. The data gathered by the Division of Steel Ship Construction show that 37 steel vessels of 255,686 deadweight tons are expected surely to go off the ways on the National holiday. In addition, there is a possibility that five more steel ships will be launched on that date, making a total deadweight tonnage of steel ships of 282,186.

THE DAY.

This is the day when every loyal citizen of the United States should pledge to do his or her mite in helping Uncle Sam to finance the great war for freedom and democracy. The President has proclaimed the day as National War Savings Day. The nation is spending millions of dollars every day in the determination to make the world a safe place for the present and future generations of Americans and their allies. Under these circumstances it is essential, as the Secretary of the Treasury points out in his official announcement of National War Savings Day, that the American people should economize and save in order to make available to their Government the money indispensably needed for the war.

On this day it is hoped that every American will take a silent pledge to do his or her "bit" in the economy and saving campaign. A pledge should be taken to avoid waste in every form, to observe the food regulations laid down by the Government, to invest to the fullest extent in Uncle Sam's war bonds and securities, and to purchase at definite periods, a specific amount of war savings stamps.

THE MOST GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The coming Fourth of July promises to be the most glorious since 1776. It will even surpass that in the character and the extent of its celebration. The full significance of the Declaration of Independence was understood by few at the time of its signing. The final severing of national ties then seemed the conspicuous fact. Mr. Jefferson's rhetoric underwent considerable pruning before the immortal document was approved. The founding of the great government thirteen years later on its principles brought the declaration's "self-evident truths" to serious international attention. The provision for democratic action thru representatives and the establishment of our novel federal system strengthened by the decisions of Marshall, made the experiment unique. The civil war proved that such a government should not perish from the earth. Our success caused the spread of democracy to all but a few parts of the earth, and this war will finish the work, says the Globe-Democrat.

But this year the birthday of the United States has a special meaning. In the last great struggle against autocracy we are contributing more than our example. We are throwing our man power and all our matchless resources into the fight, with the determination not to quit till the world is set free from tyranny and made safe against any future attempts at conquest by force. It is humanity's greatest crusade and our participation is growing daily, until all recognize that we shall be the decisive factor. The promise of the future will doubtless argue that America was raised up and preserved for this great work. It will be with a spirit of exaltation and consecration that Americans already on the battle front or in training behind the lines, we can only imagine the peculiar meaning of the day to them.

"TWENTY-EIGHTH" A FATEFUL DAY.

On the twenty-eighth day of the month, to paraphrase the language of the old-time almanacs look out for "something doing" in the great world war. From the very beginning of the conflict the twenty-eighth day of the month has been a fateful day for all the belligerents. Declarations of war have been made on this date, great battles have reached their turning point, and governments have crumbled on the twenty-eighth.

Four years ago today, on June 28, 1914, the spark was touched to the powder keg when the Crown Prince Francis Ferdinand of Austria and his wife were assassinated at Sarajevo. In Bosnia Austria charged responsibility for the assassinations principally against the Serbians. On July 28, one month after the Sarajevo tragedies, the European war was launched in Vienna by this declaration:

"The Royal Government of Serbia not having replied in a satisfactory manner to the note submitted to it by the Austro-Hungarian Minister in Belgrade on July 23, 1914, the Imperial and Royal Government finds itself compelled to proceed to safeguard its rights and interests and to have recourse to force of arms. Austro-Hungary considers itself, therefore, from this moment, in a state of war with Serbia."

August 28, 1914, was the date of the Austrian declaration of war on Belgium. On the same day the first naval encounter of the British and Germans occurred off Heligoland.

Nov. 28, 1915, marked the close of the Austro-German campaign in Serbia and the collapse of the Serbian government.

April 28, 1916, was the date of the surrender of the British and Indian troops at Kut-el-Amara to the Turks. General Townsend's gallant defense of Kut for 143 days against overwhelming odds will go down in history as one of the most magnificent episodes of the great war.

Aug. 28, 1916, Roumania entered the war with a declaration of hostilities against Austria.

Nov. 28, 1916, three months after making the declaration of war against Austria, Roumania was practically put out of the fighting. On this date the Roumanian Government fled from Bucharest to Jassy, as the Austro-German armies closed in about the capital.

April 28, 1917, the United States Congress passed the Selective Conscription bills for the raising of an army of 500,000 men.

June 28, 1917, one year ago today, Brazil revoked its decree of neutrality in the war and took sides with the Allies against the Teutonic powers, owing to the losses sustained by the Brazilian mercantile fleet thru the German plan of "ruthless" submarine warfare.

Oct. 28, 1917, was the date of the first American casualty on the fighting line. Two days previously the first contingent of American regulars had entered the trenches on the western front.

The next day the Americans fired the first shot. One day later, on the 30th, First Lieut. De Vere H. Harben, Signal Officers' Reserve Corps, received a moderate shrapnel wound in his left leg, being the first American to be wounded after part of Gen. Sibert's forces entered the trenches.

CRIPPLING RHYMS

THE ONE INTEREST.

I went last night to see the show, a play I've long adored; but little Eva's tale of woe just left me feeling bored. I saw Eliza cross the bay, but for a pleasant thrill; for I was thinking of some way to can old Kaiser Bill. And Marks the lawyer hewed his gags, and failed to make me grin; my thoughts were all of battle flags and swords and martial din. I went to see the baseball game, with crowds three or four; the pastime's pretty much the same as in the days of yore. But there was little whooping done, altho the play was fine, for we were thinking of the Hun, of war across the brine. I knew not which team won or lost, and didn't seem to care; for everything on earth's a frost, save doings "over there." I do not care for printed books, for music or for art; there's nothing now but war, gadzooks, that stirs my weary heart. I do not care for politics, for statesmen and their spels, for all their jab bag of tricks I wouldn't give two wheels. I do not yearn for county fairs, for picnics in the woods; all mortal things are fakes and snares, save war, and it's the goods. And it alone is worth our while, until our cause is won, until we've earned the thing of guile, the autocratic Hun.

REV. J. R. HASTINGS SOON TO LEAVE CITY

Missionary of American Sunday School Union Resigns to Become Pastor of Baptist Church at Littleton, Ill.—Successor Not Yet Chosen.

Rev. J. R. Hastings, who for the past six years has been located in this city as a missionary of the American Sunday School Union, has resigned his position with that society to become the pastor of the First Baptist church of Littleton, Ill., beginning his work there July first. Rev. Wm. W. Johnson, D. D., of Chicago, who is the superintendent of the work in the Lakes District, was in the city last week to confer with Mr. Hastings in regard to the work in this field and to consider the possibility of securing a man to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Hastings' resignation. He expressed his sincere regret that Mr. Hastings was to leave the work, saying that he had always regarded him as one of the best and most faithful missionaries in the service.

During the time he has spent on this field Mr. Hastings has organized twenty-three Sunday schools, many of which are doing splendid work and some of which have developed into denominational work. It has been his privilege also to visit hundreds of un-reached families in the outlying districts and to supply many of them with Bibles and good literature. This work has not been carried on without much sacrifice and exposure to all kinds of weather and sleeping in unhealthful beds. At the same time Mr. Hastings says that he has rejoiced in the privilege to be of service to so many needy communities and regrets that health conditions in his home will not permit him to continue in the good work.

His many friends in Jacksonville and surrounding country will be glad to know that he has been called to the pastorate of such a fine organization as the Littleton Baptist church, even though he must leave Jacksonville, and will wish him the very best of success in this new field. A successor to Mr. Hastings has not as yet been chosen, but Dr. Johnson announced that there are a couple of young men of high standing in the religious life of Jacksonville under consideration. It is likely that one of them will receive a commission in the near future and will take up the work where Mr. Hastings has left it.

MAJOR FERGUSON HEARD BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Tells of Great World War—Says British Navy Has Been Great Asset in Curbing Hun.

An enthusiastic audience gathered at the Grand opera house last evening to listen to Major Ferguson of the British army regarding the great war. As already stated, the gentleman has seen much hard service and is only here because he was prostrated by illness but he says he is about well and means soon to be in the ranks again. He is six feet two and a half inches tall, has a powerful build, a strong bearing and is a striking individual whom one would never forget after once having seen him.

The Liberty band supplied splendid music which added much to the satisfaction of the occasion, playing before the lecture both on the square and in the building.

Prof. J. G. Ames presided and called on Rev. M. L. Pontius to offer prayer after which the audience rose while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

In introducing the speaker, Prof. Ames spoke of the close ties between Great Britain and America and the hopes which the allies have in the aid to be rendered by this country in the great conflict.

America has done well in supplying money, men, Y. M. C. A., K. C., Red Cross, Salvation Army and the like yet we have only begun. War is costly and we must pay our part. The people are asked to raise two billion in War Savings Stamps and of this Morgan county and Jacksonville will do their share.

Major Ferguson was received with applause and was complimented with applause several times during his excellent address. He said in part:

England's Contemptible Army.
In the beginning of the war England sent to the relief of Belgium 150,000 men whom the Germans styled "Great Britain's contemptible Army." Of these men not more than 50,000 remain. I joined the British army Aug. 14, 1914. The atrocities of the Huns; their wanton destruction of buildings; their fiendish cruelty to the people of conquered territory need not be here rehearsed. I have seen many acts of the narrow-mindedness of the British. The German have delighted in separating families, sending the father one way, the mother another and the children still another.

That "contemptible army" gave a good account of itself. There is not a complete regiment left, and their spurs, for all their jab bag of tricks I wouldn't give two wheels. I do not yearn for county fairs, for picnics in the woods; all mortal things are fakes and snares, save war, and it's the goods. And it alone is worth our while, until our cause is won, until we've earned the thing of guile, the autocratic Hun.

Has Financed War.

England has had to finance the war and so far has spent over $10,000,000,000. It has raised large sums and supplied them with clothing and munitions. All men between the ages of 18 and 50 have been drawn into the army and now the old men, the women, the girls and the children do the work. Sixty per cent of the work is made by women. They work in all branches, drive wagon trains and ambulances; are useful in every branch. Women who have been delicately reared work side by side with their sisters in the humbler walks of life and they do it on satisfactory wages, only a pound and a half of meat a week to a family; often no butter at all; but little cheese and few delicacies and yet no complaints. All are bravely behind the men in the field and I am just proud of them as I have the best of reason.

Navy Controls Seas.

Then there is the British navy which has little to say but does much. We are reliably informed that it has sent fully half the German U-boats to the bottom of the sea. The German navy is well nigh obliterated; her merchantmen are in the hands of our people. It is their watchfulness of the navy that your soldiers are able to reach the other side. They patrol the seas up and down the coast and their watchfulness is never relaxed. The British ships have bottled up the German fleet and seas; have even bearded the lion in his den and have won much havoc in the base ports of the U-boats. It is a pleasure to know the British navy is so useful, for without it this war would have ended in favor of Germany long ago. In a word: the fingers of the British navy are on the throat of the Kaiser and will throttle him.

The gentleman then showed a map which exhibited the various countries of Europe and he told of the desolation wrought by the Huns in various places. A German shell sinks deep, and when it explodes it makes a deep hole and spreads death and destruction all around. He then drew an outline of the trenches of the allies and of the Germans and showed the neutral no man's land between.

The allies are fighting bravely and holding out bravely. They are angels of mercy and your doctors are men for the emergency welcomed more than words can express.

Cause is Righteous One.
We shall surely win for the right is on our side and there is a righteous God in heaven who will not let the power of the German conquer the forces of right and justice. It may take some time; we must not be too sanguine but face the facts and prepare for a long and stubborn conflict but victory will surely be ours.

After the address a Scotchman of this city, Duncan Ferguson, was introduced to the major and the two had a pleasant chat. Several of the G. A. R. men including Commander Swales and Prof. Hayhill were also present.

The stage decorations last attracted a great deal of favorable comment. The work had been artistically done under the direction of Elmer Gary. Flags were used with fine effect.

LOCAL MAN IS MEMBER OF CAVALRY BAND

Fred Goodrick, Here on Furlough From Brownsville, Tex., Gives Interesting Account of Duties at Camp—Tells of First Experience in Riding Horse.

Fred Goodrick, who is here from Brownsville, Texas, on a furlough, is serving in the band of the 13th cavalry. He has been located there for a number of months past and is thoroughly enjoying the part of army life that he sees. William Bartlett of this city is also playing in the band. The members of this organization do not have training of the kind given to most enlisted men, altho they have their own horses and each day ride for a number of hours. From 10 o'clock in the morning until late in the afternoon the time is their own. Twice each week they furnish music for dances, one for the enlisted men and one for the officers. Mr. Goodrick who is a thoro musician and can use almost any instrument, in the cavalry band, is playing the clarinet. He told Jacksonville friends yesterday of his first experience in riding a horse after he reached camp. The very first day after his arrival he went on a six mile ride and along with other recruits learned to ride his mount over a series of hurdles. There were ten or a dozen of these, and while horseback riding was entirely new to the Jacksonville man, he managed to stay in the saddle and from that day forth all fear in riding was gone. Undoubtedly that as the very purpose of the placing of men in the cavalry got this experience immediately after they enter the service. Cavalry band members must speedily learn to control their horses with their knees for when they are playing mounted both hands are needed in operating instruments. Mr. Goodrick, like most other men in the service is hoping for an overseas assignment for his troop.

AT GREAT LAKES NAVAL TRAINING STATION

Lieut. A. B. Applebee Gives Interesting Inside Story of Daily Work There—“Jackies” Lead Interesting Life While in Training.

Lieut. Alpha B. Applebee, who is in the service at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, has written to a Jacksonville friend the following facts relative to life at the station, where thousands of men are daily being received for training and as many more are daily leaving for service. Lieut. Applebee wrote from his temporary home at Libertyville, located only a short distance from the Great Lakes station, where Mrs. Applebee and their son are with him for the summer months.

You may be interested in hearing a little of the important part the Great Lakes Naval Station is playing in the present world conflict. From a small group of buildings with an enrollment of less than four thousand men, officers included, sixteen months ago, it has increased to several thousand acres, recently purchased by the government, and an enrollment of over thirty-five thousand men.

The Naval Station is divided into twelve units, one or more units comprising a camp and named after a naval hero. (Camp Dewey, Farragut, Perry, etc.) Each unit is a small city in itself, with dark green low-roofed barracks lining the white crushed-rock streets. The flower-boxes, here and there with their bright red geraniums lend a touch of color to the green background of the barracks. In these buildings, or as the sailor says, “on board ship,” everything is spick and span from the polished, waxed “deck” (floor) to the shining glass “portholes” (windows) and woe be to the company that has even so little as a scrap of paper dropped carelessly on the deck when the inspecting officer makes his rounds.

Hospital Equipment
Near the center of each unit, is the hospital with a chief surgeon in charge, and a number of physicians, under him, each doing his particular work to safeguard the health of the Jackies under their care. In the hospital is also the dental office where Uncle Sam has provided the most modern and sanitary equipment for the care of the sailors' teeth. In the larger units, there are several complete offices, with their operators on duty from 8:30 till 4:30 each day and every man in that particular unit is examined and put in as perfect condition as possible, before he is sent to sea.

During the past month, there has been an average enlistment of six hundred men each day, entering the various branches of the Naval Service, and the reason the high standard of the navy has been maintained, is apparent when we realize that this number represents only those who were successful in passing while hundreds were refused for various reasons. Another fact, perhaps not generally known, is that no man in the draft has been accepted by the navy unless he has received a certified release from his local board.

On entering the station, you are attracted by innumerable small cottages, surrounded by a 10-foot high wire fence and your first thought is that some wild animals must lurk within, from the number of “Seamen Guard” that constantly patrol the fence line—but no, it is only “Detention.” Here is where the “rob” or “rookie” is given his first insight into the hidden arts of “Jackiedom.” He marches in with suit, case and “civil clothes” and comes out a white-capped “Man-o-War-man” carrying a big canvas sea-bag.

Jokes On Recruits
One of the “pet stunts” that is always pulled off on the incoming Jackie, is to tell him that it is certain death or at least, a year in the “brig” (jail), if he is found with any cigarettes or tobacco of any form on his person after flag-lowering in the evening and to play safe, he had best deposit said articles in the basket when it is passed down the line. Of course, every man who smokes, contributes “makings,” with wistful longing but a fear of some calamity if he should refuse. At last when the basket has been down the long line, it is carried by a Jackie, long in the game, to the main office where men from all the camps drop in occasionally and help themselves. It is not until several days have passed and the “rob” becomes a real Jackie, that he learns where his favorite brand went on the first day in “Detention.”

He learns setting-up drills, gun drills, how to pack a sea-bag, but above all, how to sleep in a hammock, seven feet from the deck, and to turn over without falling out. Woe be to the man that, in a dream of home, rolls over and lands on the soft side of a hard floor. We have had several fractured jaws to set as a result of such a collision, but most of the fellows soon learn and will be at home on the real ship, later on.

The three weeks or more spent in “Detention,” may be termed the “Melting Pot” of the Navy, for we find multi-millionaires and the poorest Italian bootblack, shoulder to shoulder, all having their troubles with vaccination and typhoid “shots,” sore arms and seasick stomachs; it all goes in “Detention,” every man in his turn.

“Visitors' Day” at Great Lakes is a story in itself. Volunteers might be written about the Wednesday and Sunday afternoons. On the former, is the big review, with band after band, headed by the “Peacock of the Navy,” said to be the best drum major in the world, the companies of sailors and marines swing into line until thousands of them, marching to the music of Lieutenant's Sousa's Jackie bands, cover the drill field.

With best regards, I am Yours truly,
Alpha B. Applebee.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION TO BE HELD MONDAY

People Will Express Wishes about High School—Two Plans for Rebuilding.

As already mentioned briefly, the board of education of Jacksonville has called an election to be held next Monday, July 1, with reference to the rebuilding of the proposed high school. In accordance with the law the people are asked to vote upon the question first of all, as to whether or not they wish to have a high school built. The next question is with reference to the issuance of $100,000 in bonds. It seems that the board is putting the questions of bonds up to the people solely as a matter of securing the view of the people as to whether they would rather pay for a new high school building with the issuance of bonds or thru direct taxation. Some members of the board prefer the bond plan and others incline to taxation. There is simply a friendly difference of opinion and so the people have the opportunity of expressing their own view.

The board has at its disposal about $100,000 of money collected from insurance policies. It is possible without the vote of the people to levy a tax of 1-1/2 per cent for building purposes, which will result in a fund of about $85,000. With the thought in mind that a building of the kind needed together with power plant, will cost between $200,000 and $250,000, one plan of finance will include the insurance money, $100,000 from the issuance of bonds and the remaining necessary money from a special building tax. If the people do not favor the issuance of bonds, which can run for a period of twenty years, the entire money needed in addition to the insurance fund, can be raised thru the special tax, as there will be at least two years of taxation money available before the building is completed.

The high school building in the opinion of the board should be larger than the one destroyed by fire, both because the space in the old building was not adequate to present needs and it is also the view of the board that some thought should be given to the future. The building destroyed did not cost nearly as much as it is proposed to expend for a new building, but it is recognized that materials and all construction work are now vastly more expensive than was true when the high school building was erected.

Polling places will be placed later and there will doubtless be a general expression from the people as to their wishes on these important subjects.

FROM COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE (By G. B. Kendall.)

Farm Labor.—The extension of time at home of the drafted men from Morgan county has lessened the demand for farm labor somewhat. There were numerous calls at the county agent's office for help Wednesday. This was supplied from emergency workers secured by a committee of business men. In two or three cases the men registered failed to come when called upon. In each case these men were in non-essential industries. One young man's courage failed him when he found the farmer had bearded wheat. Apparently registration for farm work with him was merely signing a scrap of paper.

Storing Grain.—The farmers of Morgan county are advised to make provisions for storing their wheat. A supply of cars may not be available for immediate shipment. Consequently it will be necessary to store that grain until it can be shipped.

Wheat and Rye.—An effort will be made very soon to induce farmers to increase their acreage of wheat for the coming year. Now is a good time to get a line on the varieties of high yielding wheat. On sandy land it will likely prove profitable to sow rye instead of wheat. At the present price rye is a decidedly profitable crop.

Catch Crops.—Buckwheat can be seeded early in July with reasonable assurance of giving a profitable crop. It matures in from 60 to 80 days. Japanese millet is also a profitable crop. It is also a catch crop that can be made use of in a livestock region. It will produce a profitable crop of hay even when needed late.

Alfalfa.—There is a growing interest in alfalfa. Some of our farmers have secured very fine stands by plowing oats fields and then seeding in late in August. Although the county agent believes in clean cultivation until this time yet the experience of these men who have harvested the crop and then gotten good results with alfalfa can not be disregarded. The ground for alfalfa should be either well manured with rock phosphate and limestone before being seeded to alfalfa. Finally, alfalfa seeded must be thoroughly inoculated before seeding.

Buying Cattle.—The United States Dept. of Agriculture, is encouraging buyers to go directly to the ranches in New Mexico to purchase their feed cattle and this save the charge for purchasing them at markets like Kansas City and St. Louis. Every county agent has been furnished with a list of ranch men who have cattle and sheep to sell.

Basket Racks.—There are a device for reducing the amount of hired help necessary in threshing from the shock. In the north only one man works with the team in the field and there will be no matter how it is put on. It saves the expense of one man with each team.

STORE CLOSING TODAY AT 3:30 ON ACCOUNT OF SERVICES IN HONOR OF DEPARTING MORGAN COUNTY SOLDIERS.

MUST FURNISH SPEAKERS AND AUTOMOBILES

Judge W. E. Thomson said last night that he was in need of speakers and automobiles for the many school house meetings to be given in connection with the War Savings Stamps campaign.

These meetings are called for 8 o'clock but they seldom start before 9 o'clock as farmers are working from daylight until dark to get the crops out of the way.

While some have given freely of the time for several weeks, they have been called upon almost every night in the week for the past few weeks. There are many other good speakers in the city and Judge Thomson is hoping that they will respond on this, the most important day in the entire campaign.

Automobiles also are needed. A number of residents have given freely of the use of their cars. However, many will be needed this evening and other car owners will have to volunteer. Speakers and owners of cars who wish to help this evening may telephone Judge Thomson either phone 303 or war savings headquarters, Illinois 1155 or Bell 127.

LATE C. W. FAIRBANKS LARGE LAND OWNER

Former Vice President Owned 12,000 Acres of Land in Illinois River Bottom in Greene County—Farewell for Departing Soldier—C. E. Pearce Coming Home on Furlough—Other White Hall News.

White Hall, June 27.—The late Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice president, who died in Indianapolis a few weeks ago, acquired and reclaimed 12,000 acres of Illinois river bottom land in Greene county, known as the Fairbanks Ranch, the ownership of which was retained by Mr. Fairbanks at the time of his death.

Along in 1890 the former vice president was attracted by the possibilities of Illinois reclamation work, following the leadership of Louis Lowenstein of White Hall, who had organized the Hillview Drainage and Levee District adjoining Scott county and extending for some distance into Scott county. Mr. Fairbanks began to acquire by purchase and at tax sales land lying along the Illinois river in Greene county south of the Chicago & Alton railroad. He continued these purchases for a few years, until he had acquired some 12,000 acres, and this was formed into the Fairbanks Ranch. The value of this body can be conservatively placed at three-quarters of a million dollars, most of which was purchased at from $2.50 to $10.00 per acre. A large part is waste land because of the overflow of Apple creek at the southern reaches of the ranch, and the straightening of this creek would add immensely to the value of all the land within the district. The reclamation and drainage of this land was personally supervised by the former vice president, whose last visit here was during 1917. There are now 2,000 acres of wheat being cut, the work being pushed vigorously with teams and tractors working long hours. There are also 3,000 acres of corn. It is believed that the Chicago & Alton will eventually build a line south from Pearl along the east side of the Illinois river to intersect the line at Eldred, which line has already been extended south into Jersey county, from which an additional extension could be made to connect with the main line about Jerseyville.

Brother Owns Gregory Farm.
The Gregory Ranch, located southeast of White Hall, which by the way has no connection with the famous Gregory Farm, is owned by W. D. Fairbanks of White Hall, brother of the vice president. This body of land is also traversed by Apple creek, and W. D. Fairbanks has a plan on foot to straighten the creek and thus reclaim a large part now subject to damaging overflow. W. D. Fairbanks came to White Hall last year previous to which he was in charge of the Illinois bottom land belonging to his brother.

Tomorrow, Friday, 125 men will leave Greene county from Carrollton on a special train over the Chicago & Alton railroad, which will leave Carrollton at 7:30 p. m., carrying the contingents from Morgan, Greene, Jersey and Madison counties, numbering 687. White Hall's quota is to be given a fitting farewell in Princess theater at 9 o'clock in the morning, at which the Rawlins Concert Band of Roadhouse will play, and there will be speaking and a report from the Thrift Stamp committee which has been waging a strenuous local campaign this week.

Twenty one young men will go from White Hall at this time, and it is probable that a number of the boys from Roadhouse will go. The band and participants in the White Hall demonstration.

A telegram received this morning by Mrs. Roy Dugger states that her brother, Willard Pembroke, of the U. S. S. Schurz, stated that the steamer had been sunk off the coast of New York and that he is safe and all right. The telegram was filed at Brooklyn, N. Y., at 3:30 a. m., and it is presumed that it was too late for the news to be prepared for the morning papers, which carried no account of this ship sinking. Pembroke is the son of W. E. Pembroke, residing east of Roadhouse.

First Visit in Nineteen Years.

Abner Morrow, son of Wm. Morrow, is here on a visit for the first time in nineteen years, having been a resident of Montana since leaving White Hall. His father is in feeble health, and Abner's return depends on his father's condition. He visited his brother H. C. Morrow in St. Louis this week.

Advices from Camp Dodge, Iowa, are that C. Ernest Pearce, member of the 313th Engineering Train, expects to be out of the hospital by the middle of July, when he will be back on a furlough. Private Pearce has been thru a siege with pneumonia, and has been confined to the military hospital for nearly three months.

John R. Stanton, president of the Stanton and Van Cleeve Publishing Company of Chicago, is spending a vacation at his old home town, and has with him his father, Richard Stanton, who has been residing with his daughter, Mrs. J. P. Ruark, at Bushnell. Stanton has made a wonderful success of the book business, getting his start by helping in the auction of books at a sale at White Hall while yet a boy. The man who started Stanton on his career is still conducting a book business in Springfield, while his protégé has gone to the front not only as a salesman, but as a publisher as well.

Louis Kavin is here from Ann Arbor, Mich., this week. He expects to enter in a navy and has embraced the opportunity to greet old home friends. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Kavin, have become well settled in the Michigan educational center, to where they moved from White Hall last fall.

T. N. Ross came down to the People's Bank Wednesday morning for the first time since his

The last meeting of the year of the Ladies Aid society of the Church of Our Savior was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Walsh, 1125 Hardin avenue. There was a large attendance of members and the program was one thoroughly enjoyed.

After a short business session the roll was called of boys in the service whose mothers are members of the society. Some time ago a list of boys was secured who are in the service and those who have no mothers have been assigned “war mothers” by the society. These “war mothers” write letters to the boys and send them little remembrances that will cheer them and let them know that someone back here is thinking about them and interested in them.

Following the roll call, Miss Margaret Butler with Miss Margaret Ring as accompanist sang a group of patriotic songs. These were greatly appreciated especially by the mothers whose sons are over there.

Miss Margaret Davidson who possesses voice of great sweetness and quality then sang “Three Wonderful Letters From Home.” She was accompanied by Miss Lucie Bolton.

After the program dairy refreshments were served and the society adjourned sine die.

Entertained Past Poochontas Club.
Mrs. George W. Davis entertained the Past Poochontas club at her home, 724 South West street Thursday evening. The guests spent the evening in conversation while they busied themselves with knitting and other war work. The hostess served dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Adam Elgort of South Church street.

Gave Surprise Party for Mr. Boston.
Quite a large number of the members of the Baptist chapel gathered at the home of Mrs. E. O. Mayer, 705 West North street last evening as a surprise party in honor of Mr. William Boston, who is superintendent of the chapel. The evening was pleasantly spent and light refreshments were served. The members wished to express to Mr. Boston their appreciation of the interest he has manifested in the chapel.

Sewing Circle Closes Meetings.
The sewing circle of Northminster church will close their meetings from now until the first of September. At the regular meeting today they completed two quilts for the hospital.

WARNING
Premature shooting of fireworks, fire crackers and fire arms before July 4, is in violation of the city ordinances. All violators will be arrested and fined.

GOVERNMENT VIEW RAILROAD

Desire is to Discourage Litigation—On Personal Injury Cases—Settlement Preferred

It is the policy of the government while in operation of railroads to discourage litigation suits but rather to direct with the persons injured letter on this subject, write A. H. Smith, regional director eastern roads, was furnished Journal for publication by A. Bellatti. The letter, it noted, while issued by Mr. Smith in reality a statement John Barton Payne, general counsel for the U. S. railroad administration.

I beg to call your attention the following letter from Barton Payne, general division of law, United States road administration, outlining general policy with respect handling of personal injury against railroad companies federal control:

“The Federal Control Act templates that suits for personal injuries may be brought as tofore, but provides that actions may not be levied property of the carrier with the possession of the government. This means that while a judgment may be recovered, it devolves on the Director General to pay for payment and this places him the responsibility of carrying the merits of the claim the persons to whom payment made. It is the desire of the Director General that justice be done to all employees injured in the discharge of duties. This does not mean verdicts based upon prejudice shall be paid or that sums shall be paid by the government to attorneys and solicitors who have no claim upon the government. The right is reserved to consider the merits in determining what provision shall be made.

It will be the policy of the government to discourage litigation and to deal directly with injured persons to the end that the injured person may receive the benefit of any amount which the government pays, without the expense of litigation, and without compelling the person injured to pay one-half to an attorney. It is, therefore, let it be known that such claims will be considered on their merits.

As to free contracts: You are authorized to exercise a wise discretion, and are not required to make payment as provided in but only on such terms as enable the person injured to receive just treatment. If the tract is unjust, you may pay attorney such reasonable sum will pay him for the service actually rendered.”

The suggestions should be considerable help to you in disposing of such questions with persons injured in connection with personal injury claims, and I shall be glad if you will see that observance same is protected for your respective lines.

SECOND DRAWING
HELD AT CAPITAL

DRAFT LOTTERY SIMILAR TO
THAT OF 1917

Numbers Required for America's New Registrants Only About 1200—Blindfolded Men Drew Little Capsules from the Bowl.

Washington, June 27.—America's class of 1918 stood at attention today as the numbers of each man taking his majority in the year ending last June 5 were drawn in the national draft lottery.

Events of a little more than a year ago were repeated as from a large glass bowl in a committee room of the senate office building were drawn the numbers representing 344,500 youths.

The first few numbers to be drawn were taken from the bowl shortly after 9:30 o'clock by Secretary Baker. Later attaches of the office of Provost Marshal General Crowder were blindfolded and withdrew the capsules from the bowl. As the numbers were drawn, they were announced and written on a large black board. When the blackboard was filled, it was removed to be photographed and another substituted. More than three hours was required for the drawing.

The list of Morgan county registrants is given herewith, the names published in the serial order in which they are placed on the local board's record. The first number given is the Washington number and the second number is that which appears on the local board record. As a matter of fact, the numbers at this time are not of nearly as much importance as was true at the drawing held a year ago, when 10,500 capsules were necessary. Practically all of the list will be placed in class 1, under 18, and not physically fit for army service.

AGED CASS COUNTY
RESIDENT DIES

Daniel Biddlecome, Vice President of Centennial National Bank
in Virginia, Passed Away Sunday—Resident of Cass County Since 1824.

A recent issue of the Virginia Republican Gazette contained news of the death of Daniel Bid-dlecome, an aged and well known resident of Cass county, which occurred at the family home
three miles west of Virginia Sunday morning. Mr. Biddlecome was vice president of the Centennial National Bank of Virginia and had been a resident of Cass county for many years.

Mr. Biddlecome was born in Logan county, Kentucky, December 17, 1824, and at the time of his death was nearly 94 years of age. He had been a resident of Cass county for 92 years and the time of his death had been a resident of the county probably longer than any other person
then living.

Mr. Biddlecome came to Cass county with his parents in 1826, driving thru in a one horse wagon. At the time of his death he owned several hundred acres of Cass county farm land, was a large stockholder in the Centennial National bank and had various other investments.

On October 7, 1852, Mr. Bid-dlecome married Miss Amanda Frances Moore who was born in Sangamon county, this state. The marriage took place at Mt. Pleasant, Ia. Mr. and Mrs. Biddlecome resided on a farm north of Virginia until 1856, when he purchased 240 acres of land and erected the residence in which he died, having lived there for sixty-two years.

Four sons were born to Mr.
and Mrs. Biddlecome, Charles L., who died in 1905, John F., who resides at Cedar Falls, Wash.,
and Horace H. and Edward A., residents of Virginia. Besides his three sons, he is survived by his aged widow and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Shiloh Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. DeForest, pastor of the church, officiating. Interment was made in Walnut Ridge cemetery in Virginia.

The Centennial National bank of which the deceased was vice-president, was closed during the hour of the funeral.

MISS MARY F. READ IS
BRIDE OF F. W. DOHT

Piper City Young Woman Wedded
to Former Jacksonville Man in Peoria Ceremony—Will Reside
in Peoria.

A romance, having its inception in the college days, culminated at 9 o'clock Thursday evening, June 20th when Miss Mary Frances Read of Piper City and Mr. Frederick H. Dohrt of Peoria, Ill., were united in marriage.

The ceremony took place at the beautiful and spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Arby D. Read, parents of the bride, in the presence of about fifty of the relatives and intimate friends of the two young people. The simple and impressive ring ceremony was used with Rev. Robinson of Gilman, officiating, assisted by Rev.
G. P. Brecker of Piper City.

A red, white and blue color scheme prevailed in the decorations which were simple but exceedingly artistic. Carnations and roses were used together with the national colors. Especially beautiful were the decorations in the spacious parlor where the ceremony was performed.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Ruth Read, sister of the bride, and Mr. H. G. Gamber of Peoria.

The bride was attired in a gown of white silk net tastefully trimmed in satin and lace. She wore a bridal veil of white tulle caught up with white rose buds and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. Her attendant Miss Ruth, wore a gown of electric blue tulle over cloth of silver.
She carried a beautiful bouquet of Richmond roses.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Irene Morley of Cullom, Ill., sang two selections, "I Love You" and
"Let's Be Faithful." The strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Mauri Stevens the bridal party proceeded from the upper floor of the Read home to the parlor, where the ceremony was performed.

The bride is a daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. A. D. Read of Piper City and is a young woman possessed of many admirable qualities. She is deservedly popular in the social circles of her home community.
She was a student at Illinois Woman's college in this city for several years and took post graduate work at the Peoria Musical college.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dohrt of this city and is employed by the Loos-Wilkes Co. of Peoria. He attended Oberlin university, and following several years of musical study with Miss Lulu Hay in this city, was a pupil of Prof. Franklin Stead at the Peoria Musical college, graduating from that school in piano and organ.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served, and immediately afterward Mr. and Mrs. Dohrt departed for Chicago for a brief wedding visit. They will make their home in Peoria,
and begin wedded life under very happy auspices.

NOTICE, BARBERS.
All union shops will close at 4 p. m. today for the remainder of the day.

MATT STAR POST ATTENTION
Members of Matt Starr Post and all other veterans of the Civil war are urgently requested to meet at post hall at 3:30 this afternoon for escort duty and honor the brave young men who are to leave for training camps. If you think it is too warm remember what many of us experienced 54

years ago yesterday at Kennesaw Mountain way down in Georgia.
Let's give these young men a send off that will cheer them as they cross the classic Rhine and fling Old Glory to the breeze in the streets of Berlin. Leave your aches and pains at home and appear in the parade even though it may cost an effort extraordinary, and don't forget that these are extraordinary times. All who attend will have seats on the stage as guests of honor. This ought to fetch you.

J. M. Swales, Commander.
C. L. McDougall, Adjutant.
